Pastor Scott Crossfield

"Doing Unto Others".

Matthew 7:12 (NIV)
So in everything, do to others what you would have them do to you, for this sums up the Law and the Prophets.

1. Doing unto others and loving others is a command not a suggestion.

2. To be able to Love best, we need to know best.

3. When trying to love, remember you're not alone. Ask the Holy Spirit to guide you.

Five Love Languages

Words of Affirmation The person whose primary love language is Words of Affirmation would really feel loved when you express your appreciation for the things that person does or what that person means to you.

Quality Time To express love to a person whose primary love language is Quality Time, you would spend time doing things with them. This could be going to a ballgame, a dinner, or doing some other things that that person enjoys.

Receiving Gifts Someone whose love language is Receiving Gifts might feel loved when you get them some flowers or something else they like – even giving of your time.

Acts Of Service Washing the car, doing the dishes, or mowing the lawn could be ways to express love to someone whose primary love language is Acts of Service.

Physical Touch Holding hands, hugging, kissing, even give a few pats on the back – these are ways of expressing love to someone whose love language is physical touch.

Next Steps …

- ◊ Lord, help me to see beyond myself and obey you.
- ◊ Lord, help me to take the next step and love others like they need.
- ◊ Lord, help me to act on the prompting of the Holy Spirit to love others.
- ◊ I want to be Baptized to show my faith in you through obedient action.